To whom it may concern:

I am writing to ask that you approve the application for PTAA STEAM charter school. In southern Nevada, we have over 24000 students who wish to find alternative educational situations, especially in science and technology. This school will serve students in high-need zip codes, especially where public schools statistically are failing students in reading and math with chronically low testing scores. This school will be serving a demographic that is desperate for educational choice.

Sincerely,
Deborah Earl
