

Jami Curtis,

As the Education Manager of the Reno-Sparks Indian Colony, it has been a pleasure to work with the team from Pinecrest Academy of Northern Nevada. The PANN team has worked with my K-12 Education Programs team over the past several months to ensure our community has information about the school and has worked hard to recruit and enroll our students in the school. PANN is located in close proximity to our Hungry Valley tribal lands and I am happy to be able to support this option for our families. Our families truly appreciate additional options in the area for their student's education. I have appreciated the partnership and I look forward to continuing to work together to provide high quality educational options and support for RSIC students.

Thank you again for working so closely with our department,
