Office of the Governor

Dear Prospective Charter School Applicants and Community Members:

We are pleased to join the State Public Charter School Authority Board Chair, Kathleen Conaboy, in supporting the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools. Motivated groups who share Nevada's commitment to improving educational outcomes for children and who bring together the necessary talent, experience and vision to open a quality charter school are encouraged to respond to this request for high quality charter school applications.

Nevada has made significant strides in improving our schools, but work remains to be done. A review of the data on student outcomes reveals the undeniable need for new schools to offer innovative and effective models to tackle Nevada's most persistent challenges in K-12 education and ultimately increase the number of students who graduate career and college ready.

In addition to the themes outlined in Chair Conaboy's letter related to sound charter school design, I would like to draw your attention to three specific areas of need for the Nevada educational community in the coming years.

- Early literacy: Students not reading proficiently by the end of third grade are four times more likely to drop out of high school.
- Dropout prevention/Re-engagement: Nevada is persistently ranked as a state with one of the highest dropout rates in the nation.
- English language learners: More than 15% of Nevada's students are English language learners. Reality dictates that outcomes for these students will not improve until we appropriately focus on them.

The supports and resources available to charter and non-charter public schools in Nevada have grown in recent years. After several years of cuts to funding in education, our 2013 legislative agenda includes an investment in Teach for America, an expansion of Jobs for America's Graduates, financial resources to launch an English language learner initiative, and an appropriation to the charter school revolving loan account to provide loans to facilitate the opening of high quality charter schools.

To make this a reality, the Authority needs help from you – parents, teachers, administrators, community members, and school leaders. Together we can work to support and improve our existing schools while we work to expand the number of quality charter schools to meet the needs of each community.

Sincere regards,

BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

February 2013

Dear Prospective Charter School Applicant and Community Members:

The State Public Charter School Authority (Authority) is issuing this 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools to request applications to open new quality charter schools. The Authority is committed to its purpose, as defined in statute, to authorize charter schools of high quality throughout this State.

Nevada's renewed commitment to growing and expanding the quality charter school sector resulted in dramatic changes to our law and charter school environment. The 2011 Legislature created the State Public Charter School Authority, a new, independent board with authority to sponsor charter schools throughout this State. Other changes that strengthened Nevada's charter law served to elevate our ranking with the National Alliance for Public Charter Schools.

Additionally, the Authority believes that, in order to give families broad choice, we must promote a variety of successful and innovative educational models to expand the number of quality charter schools. Fortunately, Nevada has no cap on the number of charter schools. We intend to approve those applications that are judged to be of high quality, meet identified educational needs of pupils and promote the diversity of public education choices in this State.

We take our responsibility to open new public charter schools very seriously. Applicants will find our review and evaluation process to be rigorous, transparent and fair. In Nevada, a high quality charter school will operate with a relentless focus on student achievement, sound fiscal policy and practices, and model governance structures. In order to support this expectation, the Authority has two themes that undergird the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools.

- 1) A clear expectation that you will offer a research-based, rigorous curriculum that will enable pupils to achieve Nevada's educational standards. You will find ample opportunity within the attached application to demonstrate how your proposal satisfies this theme.

2) An emphasis on effective school governance. The Authority and public entrust their students and tax dollars to a charter school's governing body. We expect that your Committee to Form will incorporate model governance practices into their proposal. Please note that all Committees are interviewed by a team of reviewers to assess committee members' knowledge of the submitted application and capacity to open and sustain a quality school.

Authority staff is committed to working with new and expanding charter schools and stand ready to provide the assistance you need to submit a quality application.

Thank you for your interest in creating quality educational choices for families throughout Nevada.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Conaboy

Chair, State Public Charter School Authority

Introduction

This 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools is for applications to start charter schools that are likely to achieve strong educational outcomes. Through charter schools, we expect to provide families with educational options of many different shapes and sizes but with one thing in common: quality education.

This 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools (Call), its appendices and the Nevada Charter School Operation Manual will guide you through the steps of developing a charter school proposal. The Call, Appendices and Operation Manual provide instructions; Evaluation Criteria by which reviewers will evaluate your responses; statutory references that document the legal authority for information/documentation requests; and requirements for a charter school application's Narrative and Attachments. Each section requests information about a specific aspect of your plan and presents the evaluation criteria that reviewers will use to determine whether the section meets the standard for approval. Experience has shown that successful charter schools tend to have a number of common characteristics:

- A clear, focused, results-oriented mission statement that aligns all parts of the proposal;
- Demonstrated understanding of the population that the school is likely to serve;
- An educational program that is likely to be effective for the target population;
- Strong and diverse leadership; and
- Strong financial planning and management.

We are eager to receive well-developed charter school applications from capable school developers who are committed to educating their students well and improving the lives of children and families in our community.

A charter school application for sponsorship by the State Public Charter School Authority (Authority) proposing a fall, 2014, startup of the school must be submitted by the Committee to Form the School and received by the Authority staff at 1749 Stewart Street, Suite 40, Carson City, between 8:00A.M., Monday, August 26, 2013, and 5:00P.M., Friday, August 30, 2013. For the purposes of NRS 386.525, the date of receipt of a charter school application submitted between the dates and times identified above will be Tuesday, September 3, 2013.

Dear Prospective Charter School Applicant:

Thank you for your interest in creating a charter school in Nevada. In 1997, the Nevada Legislature created an opportunity for the creation of new, performance-based public schools through the charter process. The intent of the legislation is to provide teachers and other educational personnel, legal guardians, and other persons who are interested in public education in Nevada the opportunity to:

1. Improve the learning of pupils by creating public schools with rigorous standards for the academic achievement of pupils;
2. Close the achievement gaps between high-performing and low-performing groups of pupils;
3. Increase the opportunities for learning for all pupils;
4. Increase access to alternative educational programs for pupils who are identified as being at risk for academic failure; and
5. Encourage diverse approaches to public education and the use of innovative teaching methods that have proven effective.

Charter schools are secular, tuition-free public schools that operate as independent nonprofit, non-incorporated organizations. They offer new public education options to children, families, teachers and school leaders. Our state's charter school legislation offers students, families and educators more choices in public education. It allows schools autonomy and flexibility in how they operate in exchange for establishing higher expectations for educating students well.

Nevada is not alone in looking to charter schools to improve public education. More than 5,600 charter schools educate more than 2 million children nationally. The federal government has made it a priority to increase substantially federal financial support for starting new charter schools.

Sponsors

Charter schools are created by application to a designated charter school sponsor. The State Public Charter School Authority, local school districts, and public colleges and universities have been designated as charter school sponsors under Nevada law. A charter school sponsor's goals are to enhance public education opportunities and quality. Nevada is committed to creating opportunities for high quality schools for the youth and families of our communities. This 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools is designed to provide potential applicants a clear understanding of our expectations for the content and quality of a charter school application that merits approval.

Governance

Charter schools are governed by a non-incorporated, nonprofit, governing body (also referred to as a board). Nevada law requires applicants to demonstrate that they are qualified to operate a charter school. Typically, high performing charter schools have governing boards that are composed of individuals with a mixture of backgrounds and expertise relevant to governing a public, not-for-profit, educational organization. Persons with experience and expertise in the law, education, real estate, facilities, and finance; and parents of enrolled pupils should be included on boards. NRS 386.520 and 386.549 identify required membership on the Committee to Form the School and the school's board.

Autonomy

Charter schools operate with substantial flexibility and autonomy in comparison to traditional public schools. Charter school operators have the opportunity and responsibility to decide the best ways to allocate resources like time, people and money to best meet the needs of their students. For example, operators may determine the length and structure of the school day in a way that best fits the educational program; they may structure staffing in a way that best supports teachers and students; and they may structure the budget to ensure that teachers will have the instructional resources they need to be effective. The authority of charter school operators to make these types of decisions is premised on the belief that those closest to students are best suited to make critical decisions about meeting learning needs.

Accountability

Performance-based accountability is a central component of the charter school idea. Nevada charter school law requires that schools have clear, measurable academic performance standards under which they will operate and be evaluated. In addition, schools must be financially accountable and must comply with applicable laws such as health and safety, special education, and all civil rights laws.

The Sponsor will approve charter school applications that clearly demonstrate strong capacity for establishing and operating a quality charter school. This standard requires a sound education program, organizational plan, and financial plan, as well as strong capacity to implement the proposal effectively.

Applicable Law and Regulation

In addition to using this packet as a guide, charter school applicants and operators are encouraged to review the Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS) relating to charter schools (NRS 386.490 to 386.610) and the Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) relating to charter schools (NAC 386.010 to 386.445 and NAC 387.600 – 387.780). NRS and NAC can be found on the Nevada Legislature’s website (see Law Library): <http://www.leg.state.nv.us/>.

A charter school applicant/operator must also be acquainted with the following statutes (NRS) and regulation (NAC):

- NRS Chapters 385 – 395 and Chapter 399;
- NRS Chapters 63, 288, 332, and 354; and
- NRS Sections 49.290, 49.291, 218E.600 to 218E.625, inclusive, and 236.015.
- NAC Chapters 385 - 395

Appendices

The Appendices to this packet provide resources related to the application, including the questionnaire for prospective charter school board members.

Charter School Operation Manual

The Operation Manual, available at <http://charterschools.nv.gov/ForSchools/Resources/>, also provides information relevant to the application.

Possible Changes from 2013 Legislature

Please note that the 2013 Nevada Legislature will meet during the first several months of 2013. Changes to Charter School law are expected, and may affect any 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools submitted for a 2014 startup. Currently operating charter schools too may be subject to statutory changes arising from the 2013 Legislature.

Charter School Application Components and Guidelines

Components

A charter school application consists of the following components:

Letter of Intent

A letter of intent to submit a charter school application must precede the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools (NAC 386.125). See the Operations Manual at <http://charterschools.nv.gov/ForSchools/Resources/>.

Cover Sheet

The Cover Sheet provides a summary of key information related to the proposed school, including geographic location, enrollment projections, and applicant contact information.

Table of Contents

A table of contents must identify where in the document each Required Element can be found. Narrative pages must be paginated.

Narrative

The three sections of the charter school application are the Education Plan, Organizational Plan, and Business Plan. Within each section, there are specific response categories (e.g., Curriculum and Instruction under the Education Plan or Budget under the Business Plan). Application “Required Elements” must be addressed either as a “narrative” or an “attachment” according to instructions.

Attachments

Because there is a 50 page limit on the Narrative portion of the Charter School Application, documents such as the governing body bylaws should be submitted as Attachments. The documents that must be submitted as Attachments rather than Narratives are clearly identified for each item.

No “appendices” or extra Narratives or Attachments

All responses must be in the form of the Attachment and Narratives specifically identified in the next few pages (A.1.1, A.1.2, etc.) and the 3 part Cover Sheet. No “appendices” or extra Narratives or Attachments may be submitted.

Guidelines

Format Requirements

- Hard copy on white, 8.5” x 11” paper; printed on one side only;
- One inch margins on all sides;
- Minimum 11 point font;
- Spiral-bound (3 ring binder-bound is also acceptable), tabbed (see below); and
- Expect to revise your 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools after it has been submitted to the proposed sponsor. Use word processing that will allow you to revise the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools with ~~strikethroughs~~ and/or bold italic font.

Each Required Element (as many as 119) must be addressed specifically and separately; See A.1.1 through C.4.7, below.

There is a limit of no more than 50 pages of Narrative. Narrative pages must be double-spaced, paginated and the entire application must be assembled in a way that makes it easy to determine that it contains no more than 50 Narrative pages.

There is no limit to the number of Attachment pages.

Avoid quoting entire statutes or regulations, or including documents that could just as well be referred to rather than provided in their entirety in the application. Do not simply print materials off the Nevada Department of Education's website or the State Public Charter School Authority's website for inclusion in the application; the Application Review Team can access those websites if necessary. Including documents and statutes and regulations in their entirety will result in an unmanageably large application. Rather than quoting or including the entire text of statute, regulation and/or documents in the application, include only relevant excerpts or summarize the statute, regulation or document. Do not hesitate to provide citations of relevant statutes or regulations, perhaps along with an assurance that the school will comply with the statute or regulation and a summary of the statute or regulation.

While it may be informative for applicants to view others' approved charter school applications, copying from other applicants is strongly discouraged. What was approved in the past may no longer be applicable for a number of reasons, and what applied to the charter school whose application was approved may not apply to another charter school.

Narrative pages must be double-spaced. For the hard copies, tabs must identify each of the main headings below (A.1, A.2, A.3, etc.). Because "tabs" are of limited use in an electronic submission, provide cover sheets that state the same things as the tabs, placed in the same place in the application as the tabs. Ensure that readers of both your electronic and hard copy can readily find each Required Element. Each Required Element must be specifically addressed and labeled. Do not, for example, address A.1.1, A.1.2, A.1.3 and A.1.4 under one heading, A.1.

A.1 Mission, Vision and Educational Philosophy

Applicant Instructions

The purpose of this section is for you to provide an overview of the educational philosophy that provides the foundation for the school. Explain how this philosophy will be reflected in the culture or ethos of the school. Included in the explanation should be an overview of the research and pedagogy that supports your decision to use this approach with your anticipated student population. Provide a mission statement that defines the overall purpose of the school. A mission statement provides a statement of what will be done and answers the question: "What do we do?" Finally, create a vision for how the school will operate. Consider: What is the school striving to become? What does it want to achieve?

NRS 386.520(4)(b) states that a charter school must have as its stated purpose at least one of the following:

1. Improving the academic achievement of pupils;
2. Encouraging the use of effective and innovative methods of teaching;
3. Providing an accurate measurement of the educational achievement of pupils;
4. Establishing accountability and transparency of public schools;
5. Providing a method for public schools to measure achievement based upon the performance of the schools; or
6. Creating/providing professional development opportunities for teachers.

Required Elements

1. Choose at least one purpose per NRS 386.520(4)(b);
2. A clear mission statement;
3. A clear vision of the school; and
4. A narrative explaining the educational philosophy for the school;

A.2 School-Specific Goals and Objectives

Applicant Instructions

This section of the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools focuses on the specific outcomes anticipated for the school and its students within the terms of the charter (usually six years). Some of the goals and objectives are focused on specific student outcomes (pupil performance or educational performance goals); others are broader school-based goals and objectives (organizational and management performance goals). You do not need to include detailed strategies for meeting the goal identified in this section, as that will be covered in several different subsequent sections of the application. It is understood that your goals and associated objectives are written taking into account that baseline data is not yet available. For example, without knowing at what level students will be able to perform when they enroll in the school, it would be premature to set a goal of 90% proficiency on the Nevada CRT at the end of the first year in any grade or subject area. A better goal would be that 90% of the students will make at least one year's progress in one year's time as measured by a growth analysis of student assessment data using a nationally-normed assessment. Additional options may include using district averages or collecting baseline data for particular goals during the first year of operation. Applicants are strongly encouraged to use the resource Developing Sound Performance Goals and Measures: Guidance for Charter Schools by Margaret Lin found in Appendix 6.

In addition to writing goals that cover core educational expectations the applicant shall include developed goals in other areas such as attendance and re-enrollment, parent involvement, alignment of curriculum and instruction with state standards, professional development, and other aspects of the program that are unique and essential to the school (e.g., service learning, project based learning, outdoor education, foreign language acquisition, etc).

Following are examples of the types of educational performance goals you may want to include.

Example 1: Student Gains

At all grade levels, students at the Charter School will average 1.1 years of academic growth as measured by multiple administrations of a nationally norm referenced growth-measured exam.

Example 2: Performance Status

(Percentage) of students enrolled at the Charter School for a three consecutive year period will achieve Proficient or Advanced status on the state's annual assessment.

Example 3: Student Re-enrollment (Non-academic)

The Charter School will retain (percentage) of its enrolled students year-to-year during its first three years of operation.

Example 4: Parent Satisfaction (Non-academic)

The Charter School will demonstrate a (percentage) overall satisfaction rating in an annual survey administered to parents or designated legal guardians of students attending the school during each academic year.

Required Elements

1. At least one and no more than ten goals and objectives related to educational performance.

2. At least one and no more than five goals and objectives related to organizational and management performance.
3. For each goal and/or objective the assessment tool, data and artifacts used to measure progress or attainment of the goal and/or objective is identified and is relevant. Please note: Section A.4 is where you will describe the assessment(s) used by your school.
4. Evidence to suggest the goals are reasonable given the school's mission, educational program and target population.

Attachments

1. No attachments are required. Response shall be submitted as narrative.

Address Required Element 3 as Narrative A.2.3, Assessment tools/data/artifacts

Address Required Element 4 as Narrative A.2.4, Reasonableness of goals

Evaluation Criteria

A response that meets the standard will:

1. Define goals and objectives that are specific, measurable, ambitious, and attainable, relevant, and time-bound ;
2. Align with the technical information provided in A.4;
3. Align with the school's educational program and mission;
4. Identify for each goal and/or objective the relevant assessment tools, artifacts and evidence that will be used to determine whether or not the goal and/or objective are attained; and
5. Set high standards for student learning.

A.3 Curriculum and Instruction

Applicant Instructions

The purpose of this section is for you to present a description of the school's curriculum model (e.g. multiple intelligences, project-based, dual language, dual credit, arts infused), and the instructional programs/materials/activities/strategies being used to implement that model. Logically, a description of a school's curriculum should start broad by defining the educational philosophy (A.1) narrow to a specific curriculum model and finish with relevant instructional programs / materials / activities / strategies. A school's curriculum model, instructional materials, instructional strategies, and professional development should align with the school's proposed mission, vision, and goals and should be supported by documented educational research.

For the core subject areas (Math, Science, English Language Arts, and Social Studies), there should be a clear and coherent framework for teaching and learning that aligns with all standards adopted by the Nevada Department of Education. Nevada Administrative Code (NAC), Chapter 389, states what students need to know and be able to do by the completion of grades K-12. Charter schools must, at a minimum, teach the content stated in the Chapter 389 regulations for applicable grade levels and subject areas; however, additional content areas may also be taught.

Required Elements

1. A narrative of the school's proposed curriculum model;
2. As an attachment, a schedule of courses, for each grade level, that meets the requirements for prescribed courses and required courses of study set forth Chapter 389 of NRS and NAC;
3. As an attachment, complete addendum #1-- Course descriptions and an assurance that each course for each of the core content areas at each grade level align with the state adopted standards. (NAC 386.150(5); NRS 386. 550(1)(i) and NRS 389.018(1)); Addendum #1 can be found at http://charterschools.nv.gov/OpenASchool/Application_Packet/.

6. If applicable, as an attachment, complete Addendum #2--A designation of courses and credits required for graduation.; (NAC 386.150(5); NRS 389.018; NAC 389.450); Addendum #2 can be found at http://charterschools.nv.gov/OpenASchool/Application_Packet/ ~ (NOTE: Addendum #2 is only applicable for a high school charter application);
7. A narrative explaining the school policy on promoting students to the next grade level and for graduation from the school;
8. If applicable, as an attachment, a copy of the proposed school's diploma (NRS 386.584);
9. As an attachment, a copy of the proposed school's transcript (NAC 386.150(8));
10. A narrative explaining the school's policy regarding the transfer of credit to another comparable school (NRS 386.582; NAC 386.150(8));
11. As an attachment, a listing of textbooks, including title, author, publisher, and copyright, to be used at the school; listed by content area and grade level;

A.4 Assessment and Accountability

Applicant Instructions

This section expands on the goals section earlier in the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools by defining how the school will determine whether it is meeting its goals. It focuses both on formative assessments used to drive instructional decision-making, as well as external or summative assessments used to communicate academic achievement to stakeholders. Your mandate as the operator of a charter school is not just to teach well but also to demonstrate objectively, in ways that are clear, understandable and credible to a variety of audiences, that you are doing so. Thus you must measure and report educational progress precisely and extensively.

A quality assessment plan will include summative assessments as well as formative assessments to track student skill and knowledge development. Your response will include how this data will be used to evaluate the school's progress toward achieving the goals and/or objectives outlined in A.2 of this application. Through your response, it should be clear to the reviewer how the school will collect, analyze, triangulate, and manage data on an ongoing basis. Consider adopting a management plan that identifies what tools and resources will be used for purposes of data management (e.g., internal database, school staff, and professional services).

All public schools are required to comply with accountability reporting requirements as defined by the State. However, applicants should consider how the school will communicate individual student progress to parents/guardians. Applicants should also provide how the school will annually review and report its assessment data and academic success to the parent community and the broader community.

Required Elements

1. As an attachment please submit the school assessment plan including a list of the instruments (tests, diagnostics, survey, or other) to be used. The assessment plan must comply with NAC 386.150(7), NRS 386.550(1)(g) and (h), and NAC 389.048-.083;
2. Narrative explaining clear realistic strategies to ensure data are used in improving student achievement;
3. An explanation of how the school will use longitudinal data analysis to measure success; and
4. A data management plan as discussed in the applicant instructions.

Attachments

1. Comprehensive assessment plan.
2. No other attachments are required. All other responses shall be submitted as narrative.

Evaluation Criteria

A response that meets the standard will:

1. Align with the school's mission, vision, and goals;
2. Identify instruments to be utilized that are relevant, valid and reliable;
3. Demonstrate understanding of the school's obligation to participate in the statewide system of assessment and accountability;
4. Present a clear, credible, and sound plan for measuring and reporting the educational performance and progress of individual students, cohorts, and the charter school as a whole including valid and reliable measures of student outcomes;
5. Explain how the school will use assessment data to drive key decisions aimed at improving academic outcomes; and
6. Demonstrate understanding of and commitment to compliance with assessment requirements applicable to all Nevada public schools consistent with state law and relevant policies of the State Public Charter School Authority.
7. Include a comprehensive assessment plan that clearly identifies the assessment(s) by grade level and a timetable as to when the assessment(s) is administered. The assessment plan must comply with NAC 386.150(7), NRS 386.550(1)(g) and (h), and NAC 389.048 - .083.

A.7 Target Population

Applicant Instructions

In general, charter schools are “open enrollment” schools in that they must enroll whichever pupils seek enrollment, in the order the pupils seek enrollment. Any deviation from an open enrollment model must comply with statute and regulation, and must be thoroughly described in this section. This section requires the applicant to provide an overall explanation of the school’s proposed target population. All applicants must complete the information called for under Required Elements; however, additional requirements apply if the proposed school intends to serve primarily at-risk pupils. The following two questions are from the three part “Cover Sheet” at the beginning of the 2013 Call for Quality Charter Schools and relate to section A.7.

1. Is this school intended to serve primarily at-risk pupils? (See NRS 386.500 and NAC 386.150)
2. Will the proposed charter school enroll pupils who are in a particular category of at-risk pupils before enrolling other children who are eligible to attend the charter school pursuant to NRS 386.580? (See NRS 386.520 (4) (P))

Required Elements

1. In a narrative, identification of the community location in which the proposed school would operate, including the zip code of the proposed school’s location;
2. A narrative describing the proposed target population and why the school believes this population is underserved in the community;
3. As an attachment, include an explanation and evidence to support the enrollment projections provided in the cover sheet and budget. Relevant evidence may include, among other things, the following:
 - a. Community demographic information (numbers of potential students);
 - b. Documentation of community or family demand for the proposed school such as letters of intent to enroll; and
 - c. Enrollment data from schools currently operating in community.
4. A narrative explaining how the proposed mission, curriculum, teaching methods and services align with the educational needs of the school’s proposed target population;
5. As an attachment, provide the plan for the recruitment of students. Explain how the school will be publicized and marketed throughout the community to a broad cross-section of families and prospective students. Include strategies you will use to reach families that are traditionally less informed about educational options;
6. If you answered yes to either of the two questions in the Applicant Instructions, above, please provide a narrative describing how the charter school will measure the success of the charter school in providing an education to students who are at risk, including examples of evidence that will be collected in order to measure success (NAC 386.150); and
7. If you answered yes to the second question in the Applicant Instructions above, please provide a narrative describing the proposed enrollment process including the method for determining eligibility for enrollment in each category of at-risk pupils if the school intends to favor pupils in a particular category of at-risk pupils.

Attachments

1. Explanation of enrollment projections;
2. Plan for recruitment of students;

A.8 Special Student Populations

Applicant Instructions

For the purpose of this section Special Student Populations are defined as English Language Learners (ELL); Special Education; Gifted & Talented (GT); and special needs/at-risk students (i.e., 504, students who do not qualify (DNQ's) under a specific handicapping condition but are having difficulty with their academic and/or behavior, dyslexia students, etc...).

As public schools, charter schools must open their enrollment to any student and must provide appropriate special education services as needed for students with disabilities. The charter school developer should consider the general philosophy of the school when developing the philosophy for delivery of special education services. For instance, a charter school may have an experiential delivery model making the needs of a student with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) more unique. Further, a charter school with a philosophy that no student “falls through the cracks” may have an aggressive remediation program for students who are not attaining their full academic potential and yet do not qualify for special education services.

Describe the school’s plan for educating children with special needs, particularly those with limited English proficiency, those identified with disabilities, and those who are gifted and talented. Include your school’s process for identification, screening, education/academic content and assessment plans. Explain specifically how the school’s curriculum and approach to instruction will be designed and/or adapted to serve your special student populations. As a general education initiative, provide a multi-tiered Response to Intervention (RtI) Model that will assist your staff in implementing academic, behavior, and instructional strategies that ensure student success. Include the number of tiers, the time within each tier, and the framework of the model. Explain specifically how these students will be referred, identified, how the school will develop plans for their education, how their progress will be monitored and assessed, and how the school has budgeted and staffed to meet those responsibilities. Describe your school’s continuum of services for Special Education students.

Appendix 4 contains all applicable forms as well as examples for you to use when developing this section.

Required Elements

1. In a narrative provide a clear explanation of your proposed school’s identification, screening, education/academic content, and assessment plans/process for ELL, Special Education, GT, and special needs students (i.e. 504; students who do not qualify for Special Education services, but are struggling academically/behaviorally; etc...)
2. In a narrative provide a clear explanation of your proposed school’s multi-tiered Response to Intervention (RtI) Model (i.e., Math, Reading, Behavior, etc...)
3. In a narrative provide a clear explanation of your proposed school’s Special Education related revenues and expenditures identified in the budget submitted under section C.1 (i.e., Special Education salary and benefits; contracting for professional services such as a psychologist, speech, OT/PT, etc...; transportation for reimbursement for parents; supplies (i.e., testing materials, protocols, specific materials for special needs students, etc...).

B.1 Governing Body

Applicant Instructions

In many ways the Committee to Form the Charter School and the school's governing body (board) are analogous. Usually, the members of the Committee to Form the School, or a majority of the members, become the school's first board, although Committee and board membership restrictions (see NAC 386.130 and NAC 386.345) and requirements (NRS 386.520 and 386.549) must be observed. In cases where a majority of Committee members would not also serve as the school's first board, a thorough discussion of the formation of the first board must be provided in the context of the Required Elements and/or Stipulation 7.

Submit a copy of the governing body's rules of governance, also called bylaws, which must follow generally accepted practices of good public body governance. See the Suggested Model Charter School Bylaws on the SPCSA website at <http://charterschools.nv.gov/ForSchools/Resources/> for a model. The Model Bylaws should not be wholly, automatically adopted; they are provided for guidance only.

The bylaws/rules of governance should contain or address each of the following 19 stipulations. If the school chooses not to address any of the 19 stipulations explain why not in a document accompanying but separate from the bylaws.

1. Contain no reference to incorporation of the charter school or the school's governing body (NAC 386.227);
2. Identify a specific number—ideally between 7 and 11—of governing body members, not a range of numbers; if they identify a range of numbers, the bylaws should specify that to identify the number of members of the first governing body, and to change the number of members thereafter, requires governing body action in an open meeting;
3. Identify a specific number of "ex officio" governing body members, if any, and clarify whether those members will be able to vote or not;
4. Address the types of governing body training that will be required of members;
5. Address the types of expertise that will be provided by governing body members (legal, financial, real estate, fundraising, etc.). See NRS 386.549 for the minimum legal standard for membership; also see the guidance provided in the Charter School Operation Manual under the heading "Committee to Form a Charter School and Governing Body";
6. Assure that Robert's Rules of Order will be followed when conducting meetings;
7. Include a description of how the Committee to Form the School will transition into the school's governing body when a charter is granted; for example, who on the Committee, if anyone, will be on the school's first governing body? How will the first governing body be identified?;
8. Identify staggered terms for members so that the entire membership does not turn over at the same time and explain how terms will be staggered for the members of the first governing body, all of whom will start their terms at the same time (upon approval of a NRS 386.527(7) or a NRS 386.527(5) charter);
9. State the term of office for each member and make clear that leadership and membership of the governing body will change periodically, perhaps through term limits, so that the same persons will not serve indefinitely as either members or officers;
10. State the method of selecting, nominating and electing persons who will govern, including making clear that identification of new members is a responsibility primarily of existing members; it is improper for employees of the charter school, especially the administrator, or for an Educational Management Organization or other contractor, to be the sole or primary source of names of proposed members for the governing body;

11. Specify that only financial institutions in Nevada will be used by the school;
12. Specify that any amendment of the bylaws will need to be approved by the school's sponsor before it may take effect;
13. Clarify that no actions will be taken by a governing body that lacks the membership required by statute, and no actions will be taken by a governing body that lacks the number of members required by the governing body's bylaws. The only action that may be taken by a governing body lacking the required number or type of members is action to add members who will bring the governing body back into compliance with statute and its bylaws;
14. Assure compliance with NAC 386.345 which restricts membership on the governing body;
15. Assure the membership of the governing body represents the diversity of the community the school proposes to serve; is free from domination by members of the same religious, ethnic or racial group if that group fails to represent the nature of the community the school would serve; and lacks related (by birth or marriage) parties;
16. Assure that all governing body meetings will be audio recorded in compliance with Nevada's Open Meeting Law, and that the recordings will be available to the school's sponsor;
17. Include a mission statement that matches all other statements of the school's "mission" in the school's charter;
18. Clarify that at least three board committees will be designated and operate: Academic, Governance, and Financial. Provide a brief description of each committee's membership, purpose and operation; and
19. Identify the type and number of officers, and provide a brief job description of each.

Describe how the governing body will recruit members, including a plan that addresses the involvement of parents, professional educators, and the community in governance of the school.

Required Elements

Ensure responses to the Required Elements compliment rather than contradict or conflict with the bylaws.

1. Letter from counsel, submitted as an attachment (see "Attachments").
2. Bylaws, submitted as an attachment (see "Applicant Instructions" and "Attachments").
3. Bylaw stipulations 1-19, above, must be clearly identified in the bylaws or in an accompanying document so that it may be readily determined that they have been addressed in the submitted bylaws; submit as a separate document or include in the bylaws attachment. Alternatively, explain why any stipulation has not been addressed.
4. As a narrative, explain the governance philosophy that will guide the board, including the nature and extent of involvement by key stakeholder groups.
5. As a narrative, describe the size, current and desired composition, powers, and duties of the governing board. Explain how this governance structure and composition (including structure and composition of the committees) will help ensure that:
 - o The school will be an educational and operational success;
 - o The board will evaluate success of the school and school leader; and
 - o There will be active and effective representation of key stakeholders.
6. As a narrative, describe the plan for increasing the capacity of the governing board. What are the priorities for recruitment of additional board members? What kinds of orientation or training will new board members receive? What kinds of ongoing development will existing board members receive? The plan for training and development should include a timetable, specific topics to be addressed, and requirements for participation. Ensure the response compliments Bylaw Stipulation 4.

7. A description of how the governing body will recruit members, including a plan that addresses the involvement of parents, professional educators, and the community in governance of the school, submitted in the 2013 application narrative.

Attachments

1. Provide a letter from your legal counsel on his/her letterhead stating that the bylaws/rules of governance were reviewed by him/her; that they comply with the model bylaws and “Applicant Instructions,” above; and that they are legally sufficient as to form and content.
The bylaws/rules of governance should also be reviewed for compliance with Nevada's Open Meeting Law (NRS Chapter 241; an Open Meeting Law Manual is available from the Nevada Attorney General at <http://www.ag.state.nv.us/publications/manuals/omlmanual.pdf>).
2. Governing Body Bylaws/Rules of Governance, with indication of where in the bylaws stipulations 1-19, above, are addressed.

4. Propose board members who demonstrate (as documented by resumes, bios, and Request for Information questionnaire):

The Director will respond to the complaint and proposed resolution, in writing, within 30 calendar days outlining whether or not he/she agrees with the complaint and whether he/she accepts the proposed resolution or offers an alternative resolution to the complaint. If the charter school is not satisfied with the response from the Director, it may request, in writing, a review by the President of the Authority. If an applicant is unsure as to whether or not this section is required, it is the applicant's responsibility to contact the sponsor for guidance. If the proposed school does not intend to replicate an existing school or school model, or contract with an EMO, CMO, or other ESP, skip to the next section, B.3.2 or B.4, as applicable.

All applicants must declare whether they intend to contract with an EMO, CMO, or other ESP (see cover sheet). The term "EMO" refers to any number of organizations that contract with the governing body of a charter school to "assist with the operation, management, or provision and implementation of educational services and programs of the charter school..."; see the NRS 386.562 definition of an EMO and prohibited EMO contract stipulations. EMOs tend to be for-profit entities; CMOs tend to be not for-profit; ESP is a more general term that may include either EMOs or CMOs. Also see NAC 386.180, 386.400, 386.405, 386.204, and 386.407. For the purposes of this guidance, the term "EMO" will include CMOs and ESPs.

The sponsor will use the information provided in this section to assess the academic, organizational, and financial performance record of the EMO, and the EMO's schools or the school/school model that the applicant proposes to replicate. The sponsor may then select a subset of schools for which the applicant will be required to provide additional performance information, including academic proficiency and growth data, recent renewal evaluations and site visit reports, and multiple years of independent financial audit reports.

Required Elements

1. As an attachment, complete the Existing Schools Information Template (see http://charterschools.nv.gov/OpenASchool/Application_Resources/) for each of the EMO's schools or schools or models to be replicated. Identify those schools that serve the same grade levels and student populations demographically similar to the anticipated population of the proposed school. If the EMO/school/school model operates more than 10 applicable schools, identify the 10 most similar to the proposed Nevada school.
2. Regarding selection of the EMO/school/school model, as an attachment:
 - i. Provide the following information related to the EMO/school/school model:
 1. Name of the EMO/school/school model;
 2. The name of a contact person for the EMO/school/school model; and
 3. The telephone number and mailing address of the EMO/school/school model.
 - ii. Explain why the applicant plans to contract with an EMO rather than operate the school directly, if applicable.

- iii. Explain how and why the EMO/school/school model was selected, including when and how the applicant learned of the EMO/school/school model, which other EMOs/schools/school models were considered, why the EMO/school/school model was selected over others, and what due diligence was conducted.
 - iv. List and explain any management contract terminations as well as any charter revocations, non-renewals or withdrawals/non-openings that the proposed EMO/school/school model has experienced in the past 5 years.
3. Regarding the academic performance of the EMO/school/school model, as an attachment, explain the EMO's success in serving student populations similar to the target population of the proposed school. Describe the EMO's demonstrated academic track record as well as successful management of non-academic school functions.

Conduct reference checks of schools operated by the EMO or of the school or model to be replicated by consulting with administrators (who are not employees of the EMO) of those schools, sponsors and boards of those schools, and other stakeholders. Provide summary information from such reference checks, identifying each reference.

4. Regarding the financial performance of the EMO or school to be replicated, as an attachment include the most recent independent financial audit report of the EMO or the school to be replicated and its most recent annual report, if applicable.
5. Regarding the legal relationship, as an attachment:
 - i. Provide evidence that the Committee to Form is independent from the EMO/school/school model and self-governing, including evidence of independent legal representation and arm's-length negotiating.
 - ii. Explain the supervisory responsibilities of the EMO (if any), including which school staff the EMO will employ, how the EMO will supervise school staff who are EMO employees, and how the charter school board will oversee the EMO's supervisory responsibilities.
 - iii. If the school's governing board intends to execute promissory notes or other negotiable instruments, or enter into a lease, lease-purchase agreement or any other facility or financing relationship with the EMO (or EMO affiliate), ensure such agreements are separately documented and not part of or incorporated into the school management contract. Any facility or financing agreements and the contract must honor the school governing board's authority and enable the school to terminate the management agreement and continue operation of the school.
6. Regarding the organizational structure, as an attachment;
 - i. Provide a detailed description of the roles and responsibilities of the EMO or school/model to be replicated.
 - ii. Describe the scope of services and costs of all resources to be provided by the EMO or school/model to be replicated.
 - iii. Describe the oversight and evaluation methods that the charter school board will use to oversee the EMO. What are the school-wide and student achievement results that the management organization is responsible for achieving? How often, and in what ways, will the board review and evaluate the EMO's progress toward achieving agreed-upon goals? Will there be an external evaluator to assess the EMO's performance? What are the conditions, standards, and procedures for board intervention, if the management organization's performance is deemed unsatisfactory?

- iv. Describe the compensation structure and payment schedule, including clear identification of all fees, bonuses and other compensation to be paid to the EMO.
 - v. Describe the respective financial responsibilities of the school governing board and the EMO.
 - vi. What is the term (duration) of the management agreement? Explain the conditions and procedures (including time frames, notice, and decision making procedures) for renewal and termination of the contract. List any indemnification provisions in the event of default or breach by either party.
 - vii. Describe the plan for the operation of the school in the event of termination of the management agreement. Identify the school's financial and other responsibilities in case the school terminates the EMO contract in mid-term, and at the end of a term.
 - viii. Provide unsigned contracts between the EMO and all NAC 386.405 "key personnel" working for the school and employed by the EMO.
7. As an attachment, the unsigned contract or management agreement setting forth terms and conditions, including roles and responsibilities of the school governing board, the school staff, and the EMO; the services and resources to be provided; performance evaluation measures and mechanisms; detailed explanation of compensation to be paid to the provider; financial controls and oversight; investment disclosure; methods of contract oversight and enforcement; and conditions for contract renewal and termination.

Note that if a vendor of distance education programs or courses provides teachers to the school, the vendor also meets the definition of an EMO and Application Item B.3.1 must be addressed.

In addition to the information requested in the Department’s distance education application(s), the charter applicant must address the following Required Elements.

C.3 Facilities

Applicant Instructions

Either NAC 386.140(2), (3), OR (4) will apply to your school's facility situation. Respond only to the appropriate item or group of items.

Respond to (2) If the facility the school will use currently exists; is suitable for use by the charter school; and if the facility is not owned by the school district in which the charter school will be located.

The documentation of sponsor satisfaction with the school's insurance coverage must originate with the sponsor if the sponsor is a school district or public university or college. If the State Public Charter School Authority (SPCSA) is the sponsor, an insurance affidavit and certificate of insurance must be submitted. See http://doe.nv.gov/SD_Charter_Schools_Forms.htm for the insurance affidavit. The affidavit is only for SPCSA sponsored schools and should not be submitted until a facility has been obtained. Also see "Insurance" in the Nevada Charter School Operation Manual. Submitting an insurance document alone will not satisfy the item.

Respond to (3) If the facility is already being used as a public school. See NRS 386.560(2), charter school use of school buildings owned by the school district.

Respond to (4) If the proposed charter school has not obtained a facility. Until a Certificate of Occupancy and other inspection/approval documents have been obtained, the 2013 application will be considered an application for a Subsection 7 Charter, that is, a charter granted to an applicant who is not yet prepared to commence operation. In order to convert a Subsection 7 Charter granted due to lack of an inspected, approved facility to a charter under which the school may operate, the applicant would need to provide to the sponsor (1) a response to NAC 386.140(2) and NAC 386.170(3, 4). Required Elements

NAC 386.140(2): If the facility that the charter school will occupy exists at the time of 2013 application and is suitable for use by the charter school, but is not owned by the school district in which the charter school will be located provide:

NAC 386.140(4): If the proposed charter school has not obtained a suitable facility, personnel or equipment provide:

The written estimate must specifically reference "NAC 386.215," for example: "The included estimate satisfies the requirements of NAC 386.215."

Request for Information from Prospective Charter School Board Members and Members of the Committee to Form the School (CFS)

Instructions

The Applicant's proposed governing board members and CFS members are required to provide a current resume detailing their qualifications and experiences and respond to the Request for Information that follows.

Please be sure to submit these items together for each board member and CFS member. Information on a proposed board member will not be considered unless complete information (resume and completed Request for Information) is provided.

Request for Information from Prospective Charter School Board Members and CFS members

Governing a public charter school requires commitment and responsibility. The governing board will be ultimately responsible for the sound education of all children enrolled in the school and for the responsible use of the public funds that the school receives. Your desire to serve on a charter school board or CFS indicates a belief in and commitment to quality public schools for all children. It also indicates a willingness to serve as a public official. As a charter school sponsor, we recognize the significance of those commitments and appreciate your willingness to take on the accompanying responsibility.

If the application is approved, the board/CFS will enter into a charter contract that establishes the terms under which the school will operate. Therefore, one purpose of the charter school application is to provide the sponsor a sense of the board's capacity to govern the school effectively. With that purpose in mind, each prospective board and CFS member should respond to this request for information.

I. Background

1. If true, please affirm that you will be at least eighteen years old by January 1 of the year in which the proposed charter school would open.
2. How did you become aware of the proposed charter school and the opportunity to serve as a member of its board?
3. Explain why you would like to serve on the board.
4. Have you previously served on a board of a school district or a not-for-profit corporation (including the board of a parochial or independent private school)? If so, describe any relevant experience. If you have not had any previous service, discuss why you wish to serve in this capacity.
5. What is your understanding of the appropriate role of a public charter school board member?
6. What relevant knowledge and experience will you bring to the board?
7. Assuming the school is successful, what is your image of how the school will look towards the end of its first year? What will it be like after four years?

II. Educational Philosophy

8. What is your understanding of the school's mission and/or philosophy?
9. Are you familiar with the school's proposed educational program? How would you describe it?
10. What are the characteristics of a successful school? What specific steps do you think the board will need to take in the first year or two to ensure that this school is successful?

III. Conflict of Interest Disclosure

11. Do you or your spouse know any of the other prospective Board/CFS members? If so, please so indicate the name of the person and the relationship.

12. Do you or your spouse have a pre-existing relationship with any people already identified as prospective school employees? If so, please so indicate and describe the relationship.

13. Do you or your spouse know anyone that plans to do business with the school? If so, please so indicate and describe the relationship and the nature of the potential business.

14. If the school proposes to partner with an educational service provider (ESP), educational management organization (EMO), or a Charter Management Organization (CMO) do you or your spouse know any employees, owners, or agents of that provider? If so, please indicate the individuals you know and the nature of the relationship. (If the school does not intend to partner with an EMO/CMO/ESP, write "N/A").

15. If the school intends to partner with an EMO/CMO/ESP, do you or your spouse have a direct or indirect ownership, employment, contractual or management interest in the EMO/CMO/ESP? (If the school does not intend to partner with an educational service provider, write "N/A").

16. Do you anticipate conducting any business with the EMO/CMO/ESP, the school, or both? If so, describe the potential relationship.

17. Are there any potential ethical or legal conflicts of interest that you can foresee in the context of your service on the school's board? If so, explain.

18. How would you handle a situation in which you believe one or more members of the school's board to be engaged in self-dealing (i.e., making arrangements involving the school that materially benefit the board member, his or her friends).

Appendix 2:

Frequently Asked Questions about Charter Schools

What are charter schools?

Charter schools are tuition-free public schools that are open to all families contingent on available space. They are permitted to operate with more flexibility and independence than traditional schools.

Are charter schools public schools?

Yes, every charter school is a public school.

How do charter schools differ from traditional public schools?

Charter schools differ from traditional public schools in that they are exempt from many state and school district regulations. They decide their own curriculum, staffing, organization and budget. In exchange for this autonomy, they promise to educate pupils well - meeting or exceeding Nevada's educational performance standards - or they lose the privilege of operating the school.

How are charter schools started?

Charter schools are established by a group of individuals - often teachers, principals, education experts and/or parents - that have a vision for the kind of school they would like to create. The founding group submits a plan for the school to a sponsor. Founding groups often spend a year or more planning their schools before submitting an application. If the sponsor finds that the plan demonstrates that the group is likely to create a high quality school, the application is approved, and the applicant group prepares to open the school.

Who gets to attend a charter school?

As long as space is available, almost any pupil who applies to a charter school may attend that school provided the pupil meets the age or grade range that the school intends to serve. Enrollment is free and non-selective. Usually enrollment is limited to a specific number per grade. Each school has a non-selective, free application process. If the number of applications exceeds the available space, the school will hold a random lottery to determine which children get to enroll.

What is a charter?

A charter is an agreement between the school's sponsor and the school that documents the school's rights and responsibilities as well as the educational outcomes that the school will be expected to attain. The charter is good for a fixed number of years. At the end of the charter term, the sponsor determines whether the school has met the terms of the agreement, particularly with respect to handling public funds responsibly, providing a safe environment and educating pupils well. If the school has met expectations, the sponsor will renew the charter, and the school will continue to operate. If not, the charter will not be renewed, and the school will be closed.

Do charter schools serve students with special needs?

Like all public schools, charter schools are required to provide access and services to all students, including students with disabilities and those who are limited English proficient.

May a charter school be religious in nature?

No. Like all public schools, charter schools must comply with the first amendment to the U.S. Constitution that prohibits religious instruction in public education

What is a sponsor?

A sponsor is an organization that has the authority to approve and oversee charter schools. The Nevada Legislature has authorized school districts, public colleges and universities, and the State Public Charter School Authority to sponsor charter schools. A group interested in starting a charter school may apply to any eligible sponsor, but the most common sponsor in Nevada is the SPCSA.

DEVELOPING SOUND PERFORMANCE GOALS AND MEASURES

Guidance for Charter Schools

Prepared by Margaret Lin¹

To set performance goals, schools will find it helpful to engage in backward mapping – asking themselves what they would like to have achieved several years from now. What would the school like a newspaper article or concerned parent to say about the school at that time? The school should then translate these broad hopes into specific goals reflecting both (1) Educational Performance and (2) Organizational and Management Performance.

For each goal, schools should develop specific indicators, assessment tools, baseline data, targets for performance, and strategies for attaining them. (See attached templates for assistance.)

Developing Sound Performance Goals and Measures

Charter school organizers and operators should define both educational and organizational and management goals for their school. This important exercise helps organizers begin to reflect on how they will define and measure success. It also helps existing schools foster a culture of professional accountability and sets the stage for the effective use of data for continuous school improvement.

However, to be meaningful and realistic, each school must reexamine and refine its goals and measures after enrolling students and gathering baseline achievement data early in their first year of operation.

This resource is designed to offer focused guidance in developing sound goals and measures – both educational and organizational – for inclusion in each school’s accountability plan. These goals and measures should be carefully selected to be most useful to the charter school, the authorizing entity, and other stakeholders in the school’s success.

The performance framework presented here asks each school to develop school-specific goals and measures for:

¹ Margaret Lin is a Senior Associate at the National Association of Charter School Authorizers. This guidance was originally developed for charter authorizers to provide to schools, and appears in customized form in The Charter School Accountability Handbook for Mayor-sponsored Charter Schools, 3rd ed. (City of Indianapolis, 2004). Many of the concepts, definitions and principles in these pages are adapted from the following sources: Measuring Up: How Chicago’s Charter Schools Make Their Missions Count, by Margaret Lin (Leadership for Quality Education, 2000); Guidelines for Writing Charter School Accountability Plans, 2001-2002 (Charter Schools Institute, State University of New York), http://www.newyorkcharters.org/charterny/act_guide.html; and “Some Expectations Regarding the Contents of Charter School Accountability Plans,” District of Columbia Public Charter School Board.

- 1) Educational Performance – addressing aspects of student learning that demonstrate the school’s mission; and
- 2) Organizational and Management Performance – addressing matters such as finances, facilities and other operational management; leadership, governance and personnel; attendance and retention rates; strength of community; parent satisfaction and market demand.

While it is important that charter schools have enough goals to measure progress relating to their mission, too many goals can become difficult to manage and measure. In addition, not all goals that your school may develop for internal guidance and strategic planning are necessary for external accountability purposes. Thus, for purposes of an external accountability plan, most schools would be wise to develop no more than ten to twelve broad goals, with the majority focusing on educational performance. Fewer goals are also acceptable. Each school, however, should use its own discretion to determine a suitable number of goals based on its individual situation.

Note: The following guidance focuses particularly on developing strong educational goals and measures for your accountability plan. This task demands particular attention because educational performance indicators are often more challenging to state in objective, externally meaningful terms than are measures that focus on organizational and management performance. However, the principles for developing both educational and organizational goals and measures are very similar. Thus, to the extent applicable, you should follow the guidance in these pages for developing your organizational and management goals and measures as well.

General Criteria for Educational and Organizational Goals

Goals should be SMART:

- Specific (and, for educational goals, tied to learning Standards). A well-defined goal must be specific, clearly and concisely stated, and easily understood. Educational goals should be tied to learning standards that specify what students should know and be able to do, for each subject or content area and for each grade, age, or other grouping level. Equally important, educational goals should be developed with solid knowledge of students’ baseline achievement levels.
- Measurable. A goal should be tied to measurable results to be achieved. Measurement is then simply an assessment of success or failure in achieving the goal.
- Ambitious and Attainable. A goal should be challenging yet attainable and realistic. Educational goals should be based on a well-informed assessment of your school’s capacities and your students’ baseline achievement levels.
- Reflective of Your Mission. A goal should be a natural outgrowth of your school mission, reflecting the school’s values and aspirations.

- Time-Specific with Target Date. A well-conceived goal should specify a time frame or target date for achievement. It is useful for schools to set both short-term (annual) and long-term (3-5 year) targets for accomplishing goals.

Definitions of Key Terms in Goal-Setting²

*Remember: while these definitions pertain specifically to educational goals, they are also applicable to organizational and management goals.

To develop adequate learning goals and measures, schools should begin with a clear understanding of a few essential terms:

Goal: A clear, measurable statement of what the school will accomplish with its students after a specific length of time attending the school.

Indicator: A clear statement of how the school will know that it has achieved a goal, without necessarily detailing specific assessments or measures.

(Examples: “Students will demonstrate reading proficiency at or above grade level” or “Students will achieve annual growth that is sufficient for them to reach proficiency on state standards by the time they exit our school.”)

Standard: A clear, measurable statement of what students will be expected to know (a content standard) or be able to do (a performance or skill standard) at a given point in their development, usually each year and at graduation. Allows monitoring of progress toward an ultimate goal.

(Standards are usually defined grade-by-grade and subject-by-subject, and are thus more specific than – but necessary to support – overarching school goals.)

Benchmark: A clear, measurable statement of what the school will accomplish with its students at a given point in the school’s development, usually each year or at more frequent intervals. Allows monitoring of progress toward an ultimate goal.

Assessment (sometimes also “measure”): A method, tool or system to evaluate and demonstrate student progress toward – or mastery of – a particular learning standard or goal.

(Examples: A standardized test, or a portfolio-judging system)

Measure: An application of an assessment that defines progress toward or attainment of a goal.

(Example: “Percent of students at State Assessment performance levels, disaggregated by student subgroup” or “Value-added scale score growth for each student.”)

Assessments – and by extension, measures – should be valid, reliable, and demonstrate scoring consistency:

- Valid: Assesses the skill or knowledge it is intended to assess.
- Reliable: Provides consistent results when taken repeatedly by the student at a given point in his/her development, as well as by other students at the same point in development.
- Scoring Consistency: Produces consistent scores, ratings, results or responses when a particular assessment tool, scoring guide or rubric is used by different evaluators to assess the same student performance or work sample. (Often called interrater reliability)
- Target: An application of an assessment or measure that indicates the level of performance that will constitute success over a time period.

(Example: “90% of students at Successful Charter School will achieve annual

² Some of these terms may be defined or used differently elsewhere in the education community. This page is meant to provide a consistent set of working definitions for schools to use in developing accountability plans.

Essential Principles for Developing Sound Educational Goals and Measures

- Your mandate as the operator of a charter school is not just to teach well but also to demonstrate objectively – in ways that are clear, understandable and credible to a variety of external audiences – that you are doing so. Thus, you must measure and report educational progress precisely and extensively.
- Distinguish between goals and measures. Goals are the starting point, but require valid, reliable ways to measure and demonstrate that you have achieved them.
- Make sure that your goals are clear, specific and measurable. They should also be challenging yet achievable.
- Your measures for attainment of those goals should describe how you will assess progress, and how much progress will constitute success.
- Educational goals must be connected to a well-defined set of learning standards for both content (what students should know) and performance (what students should be able to do). Such standards should exist for every subject or content area and each grade, age or other grouping level in the school. Focus on outcomes and evidence of learning, not inputs. For example, participation rates or the number of hours spent on an activity are not sufficient measures of success. Participation and investment of time are necessary first steps, but they are inputs, not demonstrable measures of learning and accomplishment.
- In developing goals for your accountability plan, focus on what’s most important. No more than eight to ten clear, well-chosen and carefully measured educational goals should allow you to provide a convincing story of your progress and achievements – and will be more effective than listing a score of vague, trivial, redundant or hard-to-measure indicators.
- The measures you develop to assess achievement of each goal, if not based on standardized assessments, should be demonstrably valid and reliable. (The “Framework for Creating Unique Learning Measures” provided later in this guidance will provide some help in developing validity and reliability in assessments.)

A Note on Defining Standards: Milestones on the Path to Broader School Goals

Educational goals must be tied to clear content and performance standards specifying what you expect your students to know and be able to do in order to graduate or be promoted to the next level. These standards need only to be referenced in your accountability plan, but they form the foundation of your school’s education program. As such, selecting and developing grade-by-grade, subject-by-subject standards is an essential component of accountability planning that goes hand-in-hand with broader goal-setting. In setting standards, keep in mind this central question: Do our standards embody the expectations necessary to achieve our mission and reach our goals?

Of course, many of your school standards will be state standards. However, most schools have important aims beyond the state requirements, and developing these supplemental standards is a technically challenging task. It usually consists of several steps, including:

1. Articulating desired characteristics of “educated” students at a general level – or setting your school’s overarching goals;
2. Breaking these general qualities and goals into more concrete graduation or exit standards; and
3. Benchmarking these exit standards down into specific and measurable grade-level content and performance standards.³

Practical Steps for Developing Sound Educational Goals and Measures

- Define a set of goals that describe what success will look like at your school. These goals should be carefully selected to reflect the breadth and depth of your mission.

Defining Goals: Some Helpful Guiding Questions

Ask the following critical questions when defining your school’s goals:

- How will you know if your school is succeeding (or not)?
- What will be important characteristics of “educated students” at your school?
- What will students learn, know, understand and be able to do after a certain period of time, before promotion to the next grade level, or before graduation from our school?
- What should your graduates permanently possess as a result of their time in your school?

- Outline your goals in precise, declarative sentences. Example: “All students at the Excelencia Charter School will be proficient readers and writers of Spanish within four years of enrolling.”
- Identify at least one and possibly multiple measures to assess and demonstrate progress toward each goal. These measures must indicate both (1) the level of performance you will expect your school or students to achieve, and (2) how much progress will indicate success. (It is not sufficient to say you’ll administer a certain type of assessment; you must explain how you expect your students to perform on it to demonstrate progress and success.)
- You may develop different types of measures to assess (1) absolute achievement; (2) student growth or gains; or (3) achievement compared to other schools. (The box below, entitled “Example: Multiple Measures Applied to a Single Goal,” provides an example of different ways to measure achievement of the same goal.)
- For every goal, choose means of assessment that make non-attainment of the goal as objectively apparent as success. That is, the assessment(s) should tell you (and external audiences) immediately whether you have achieved a particular goal or not. For example, if one goal of your school is to develop your students into skilled readers, it would not be persuasive to rely on a survey of parents' opinions of their children's reading skills to show that your students did indeed become skilled readers. You would need to select some type of externally credible assessment to measure and demonstrate students' reading proficiency.

- Make sure that your measures of student learning are based on knowledge of your students' baseline achievement levels. Without such knowledge, your measures will not be meaningful or realistic.
- Set long-term goals as well as intermediate (typically annual) benchmarks to assess progress. Administer assessments corresponding to this timeline to provide longitudinal data over the term of the charter.
- To have time to counter learning deficits that students may have upon entering your school, you may consider setting certain goals for students who have been enrolled in your school for a specific length of time, such as "students who have been in the school for at least three years."
- For every measure you develop, ask yourself, "Will this measure be readily understandable and credible to someone who doesn't spend a day or a week in our school getting to know us?" Remember, your school will be judged by the media, community leaders and the public at large, in addition to your authorizer and parents. For measures not based on standardized tests, establishing external credibility typically requires demonstrating validity and reliability. (The "Framework for Creating Unique Learning Measures" in the next section offers an overview of one way for schools to do this.) Credibility – through valid and reliable measures – is important for all measures you develop. Be sure to establish this.
- Understand what data you will need to gather to support each measure. Remember, if you have no data, you have no case proving your school's achievements. Likewise, if you have insufficient data, you have an insufficient case.

Selecting Assessments: Some Helpful Guiding Questions

Ask the following critical questions when selecting or developing assessments:

- How will we ensure and demonstrate that we meet or exceed these expectations? How will we measure and report – clearly and concisely – whether our students are reaching each learning standard?
- What are all the characteristics of a student performance or sample of work that meet a particular standard? Exceed the standard? Approach the standard? Do not meet the standard?
- Does this assessment enable all students to demonstrate their knowledge, skills and understandings relevant to the given standard?
- Is the assessment valid – does it measure the skills or knowledge we intend it to measure?
- Is the assessment reliable – does it provide consistent results when taken repeatedly by the same student at a given point in his/her development? Does it provide consistent results when taken by other students at the same point in development?

- Is there a clearly written scoring tool or rubric that is consistent with the purpose of the assessment?
- Do our assessment tools, scoring guides, or rubrics pass the test of interrater reliability, or scoring consistency and accuracy? That is, do different assessors or evaluators use them in the same way, resulting in consistent responses when scoring the same student performance or work sample?

Tip: Schools can achieve interrater reliability by undertaking an audit-like process to pilot and refine assessment tools – for example, double- or triple-scoring every fifth sample of student work, comparing the scoring responses given by the different evaluators, and revising or clarifying the scoring tool as needed to eliminate inconsistent ratings. (See the examples that appear later in this guidance.)

- Are our assessment tools or scoring guides user-friendly? Are the instructions and procedural explanations for teachers or other assessors clear?
- Is the assessment feasible to administer?

There is no single best way to measure achievement of a particular goal. As charter schools, you are free to choose measures that you prefer, provided that they are also clear, meaningful and persuasive to external audiences.

Double-Checking the Quality and Integrity of Learning Measures: Some Helpful Guiding Questions

Ask the following critical questions when selecting or developing assessments:

- Are our assessments aligned with our standards and curriculum?
- Are the standards and curriculum aligned?
- Are the knowledge and skills we test important to teach and test?
- Does our school adequately teach the knowledge and skills being tested?
- Do our assessments accurately measure attainment of the standards?
- Do our standards and assessments show both breadth and depth?
- Do our standards and assessments demand that students demonstrate more than simple recall?
- Do our standards and assessments represent a worthwhile educational experience?
- Are the standards and assessments free of gender, cultural and other biases?

The following example shows how three different measures might be applied to a single learning goal. (These goals could be developed by one school or by three different schools that have the same goal.) Note that each measure describes how progress will be assessed and how much progress will constitute success. The third measure allows the school to assess skills beyond those measured on standardized tests, and would thus require some demonstration of validity and reliability or be used in addition to externally validated assessments.⁴

Example: Multiple Measures Applied to a Single Goal

Goal: “All students at the Successful Charter School will become proficient readers of English within three years of enrolling at our school.”

Possible Measures:

- “Students at the Successful Charter School will improve their performance on the reading portion of the State ABC Test by at least 5% per year, on average.”
(Measuring growth – Note: The proposed rate of improvement must be sufficient, based on information collected through baseline data, to meet the ultimate target goal in the specified time frame)
- “Students at the Successful Charter School will perform at a level higher than their peers in the Successful School District on the English & Language Arts portion of Required State Examination in all grades, as demonstrated by a greater percentage of students passing and by a higher overall average student score.”
(Assessing comparative performance)
- “All students at the Successful Charter School will read aloud and discuss an essay of literary significance before a panel of teachers and outside experts at the end of their 8th and 10th grade years, achieving a “Proficient” or higher rating from the panel for each of the following skills: elocution, comprehension and analysis.”
(Performance-based assessment)

“From Qualitative to Quantitative”: A Framework for Creating Unique Learning Measures⁵

Following is a six-step framework for designing valid, reliable measures of learning in areas not typically assessed by standardized tests. Schools may use this framework to create their own externally credible measures in similarly difficult-to-measure areas.

⁵ From Measuring Up: How Chicago’s Charter Schools Make Their Missions Count, by Margaret Lin (Leadership for Quality Education, 2000), pp. 32-33.

Six-Step Framework for Creating Unique Learning Measures

1. Define Clear Standards
Define: What are our ultimate goals for our students and graduates? What do we expect them to know and be able to do before promotion to the next grade level or graduation? Have the standards externally reviewed by experts and community members (e.g., standards and subject-area experts, curriculum specialists, university professors, other educators, school district administrators, school governing board members, parents).
2. Design Assessments Aligned with Those Standards
Define: How can students demonstrate they have reached our standards?
3. Develop Scoring Tools or Rubrics
<ol style="list-style-type: none">a. For every assessment designed to measure attainment of a particular standard, first define: What are the essential features of a student performance or sample of work that meets the standard? That exceeds the standard? That does not meet the standard? That approaches the standard?b. Create a scoring tool or guide that rates student performance or work by applying these criteria.c. Assign point values to express students' overall attainment or non-attainment of the standard (for example: 4 = exceeds standard; 3 = meets standard; 2 = approaching standard; 1 = does not meet standard).d. Train teachers and other assessors to use the scoring guides or rubrics consistently.
4. Test the Reliability of Assessments
Pilot assessments and scoring tools repeatedly to ensure scoring consistency and accuracy across different evaluators and assessment occasions. Try an audit-like process in piloting and refining an assessment – for example, double- or triple-score every fifth sample of student work, compare scoring responses, and revise or clarify the scoring tool as needed to eliminate inconsistent ratings. Use exemplars – samples of student work that should be scored at varying levels – to help achieve consistent interpretation and usage of scoring guides.
5. Translate Student Scores into Aggregate Measures
After ensuring the validity and reliability of an assessment, translate student scores on the assessment into aggregate measures: What percent of all students met, exceeded, approached, or did not meet the standard?
6. Communicate Results
Communicate student progress toward the standards by reporting individual and aggregate growth, using students' beginning or baseline performance as the point of comparison. Communicate school results through multiple avenues, such as community meetings and annual or more frequent reports for parents, your authorizer, the public, and the media.

Examples of Measures Created through this Framework

Examples of goals and assessment processes developed by charter schools in Chicago, IL following this framework include:

Narrative Writing: Writing Appraisal System

North Kenwood-Oakland Charter School (NKO)

Performance Goal:

“80% of our students will demonstrate mastery in narrative writing by meeting or exceeding the minimum grade-level standard score for work assessed according to the seven-category Writing Appraisal System.”

Establishing Reliability in Assessment:

North Kenwood-Oakland, an elementary charter school in Chicago, has created a unique system to assess its students’ writing skills. The assessment team that developed NKO’s Writing Appraisal System was composed of writing assessment specialists, NKO faculty, and Literacy Coordinators (teachers) from eight other public schools in Chicago in the Center for School Improvement’s (CSI, affiliated with the University of Chicago) network. Together, this team examined accountability protocols developed earlier by CSI as well as from across the country, paying particular attention to urban school district and charter school writing assessment materials.

Drawing upon these models, the assessment team created scoring guides to gauge student progress toward NKO Charter School’s Unique Writing Standards as well as state and district standards. The team then repeatedly scored samples of student writing collected from the eight schools in CSI’s network, compared their scores to find variances, and revised the rubrics as needed to eliminate significant discrepancies. To build consistent understanding and usage of the rubrics, the team used exemplars – samples of student work illustrating distinct levels of achievement that should be scored accordingly. They repeated this exercise several times throughout the Project year until they had confidence in the reliability of the assessment instruments.

Oral Expression

North Lawndale College Preparatory Charter High School (NLCP)

Performance Goal:

“Within two years, 75% of our students will master speaking effectively in a variety of academic and professional settings.”

Establishing Reliability in Assessment:

North Lawndale College Prep, a charter high school in Chicago, has established both internal and external consistency and reliability in tools to assess its students’ skills in Oral Expression. First, in training faculty and student judges in the use of the rubric, the school uses videotaped Oral Presentations by students from other schools. Teams of assessors of three people each (two faculty members and one student) watch a taped presentation, score it and then compare and discuss individual scoring. They repeat this with two additional taped presentations.

Having each Oral Presentation assessed by three people provides an ongoing check on consistency, reliability and fairness. Significant scoring variances within any three-member scoring team are discussed and resolved by the team. If necessary, the scoring team can request assistance from one of the two English faculty members to resolve a scoring difference.

The school also uses a team of external expert assessors to evaluate randomly selected, taped Oral Presentations. This team consists largely of speech and communications faculty of local colleges and universities and possibly the Speaking, Arguing and Writing Program at Mt. Holyoke College. Scores produced by the external assessors are compared with those of NLCP's internal team, and scoring variances are resolved by refining or clarifying the assessment tool.

Developing Organizational and Management Performance Goals and Measures

In addition to goals and measures for student learning, your accountability plan will require a few goals and measures pertaining to Organizational and Management Performance. Many of the general principles and steps outlined above are useful to follow in developing these indicators, though the framing question to guide this task is:

In addition to educational measures, what evidence will show that our school is an effective, well-run institution?

This will be your opportunity to demonstrate success in areas of organizational and operational performance such as (but not limited to):

- Financial management and performance;
- Strength and stability of leadership, governance and personnel;
- Facilities and other operational management;
- Enrollment, attendance and retention;
- Staffing and professional development;
- Parent and community involvement; and
- Parent and student satisfaction.

For most schools, developing three to four school-specific goals for organizational performance should be sufficient. The following box offers examples of organizational goals and possible related measures.

Examples of Organizational and Management Performance Goals and Measures

Goal: “Teachers and staff will be highly qualified, demonstrate high expectations for all students, and have a positive attitude toward the school and their colleagues.”

Measures: “90% or more of the teaching staff will have at least a bachelor’s degree in the subject they teach and at least two years of teaching experience. The teacher retention rate will be at least 90% each year, not including departures for health or family reasons. All teachers will consistently earn satisfactory ratings on regular classroom observations by the Principal and Academic Director. The school will earn satisfactory ratings from at least 90% of the faculty on a survey administered each semester to assess professional satisfaction. At least 90% of parents responding to an annual survey will indicate satisfaction with teachers at our school.”

Goal: “Families will see themselves as partners in their children’s education and will be active in the life of the school.”

Measures: “At least 80% of parents will participate in report card pick-up days and quarterly parent-teacher conferences, as recorded on sign-in sheets. At least 80% of parents will regularly attend student exhibitions, performances, academic fairs and other showcase events, as recorded on sign-in sheets. At least 20% of parents will volunteer at least 15 hours per year for the school, and at least 50% of parents will volunteer at least 10 hours per year.”

SAMPLE GOAL SUBMISSION FOR ACCOUNTABILITY PLAN

Accountability Plan for the New Academy Charter School

Mission Statement	The mission of our charter school is to cultivate in youth of the Riverside and Brickyards neighborhoods a deep appreciation and understanding of mathematics and science, and to develop in them the academic and social skills and character qualities essential to be active community members, responsible citizens and successful individuals.
Performance Goal	What will our school accomplish? (Precise, declarative statement tied to a specified timeframe or length of attendance) Graduating students will have a plan for their future and the confidence, skills and preparation to pursue it.
Performance Indicators	How will we know that we have achieved this goal? Students will demonstrate that they have thought about their interests and aptitudes, have researched necessary steps to achieve their goals, and have outlined a realistic path for taking those steps.
Assessment Tools and Measures	How will we measure achievement of this goal, using mandated assessments and/or school-specific assessments (such as portfolios, juried performances)? Beginning in the 8 th grade, students will develop a career plan that is revised annually. The career plan will be evaluated for soundness by the school counselor and each student's teacher-advisor, using a tool that we have developed for this purpose.
Attachments	Attachments to illustrate the performance goal and assessments. (Note and attach relevant school-developed assessments and/or assessment tools. If a school-developed assessment or tool is still under development, note this here along with the date when it will be ready for submission, and submit it once it is developed.) Our school-developed tool for evaluating student career plans is attached. [Example response only – no tool is attached to this sample.]
Rationale for Goal and Measures	Why is this goal important to our mission, and why is our chosen method of assessment appropriate and useful for measuring performance toward this goal? (2-3 sentences) Developing in students the self-knowledge and skills to plan realistically for their futures is essential to our mission. We are committed to preparing our students to succeed beyond our doors. Individual student career plans, thoughtfully revised each year with faculty counseling, will teach students to engage in self-reflection and research that will equip them to follow a plan throughout their lives – adjusting as necessary, but continuously focused on meaningful and realistic goals.
Assessment Reliability and Scoring Consistency	How will we demonstrate both the reliability and scoring consistency of the assessment(s) we plan to use, if non-standardized? The school counselor and all teachers (who also serve as advisors to assigned groups of students) will be trained to use the tool that we have developed for evaluating student career plans. From the first set of career plans developed in 2004-2005, we will identify exemplars representing distinct levels of achievement (Excellent, Good, Fair, Needs Improvement) that should be rated accordingly, and will use these to help guide and build consistency in evaluation. Guided by the exemplars, the counselor and teachers will repeatedly evaluate a sample set of actual career plans developed in 2004-2005 (including written comments and oral feedback as well as a numeric score for each plan), comparing their scores and comments to identify variances, and revising the evaluation tool as needed to eliminate significant discrepancies. We will repeat these “practice evaluations” as needed until we are confident in the reliability and consistent usage of the evaluation tool.

Strategies for Attainment	What are our strategies (curricular, instructional, assessment, organizational, operational) for attaining this goal? (Include designation of point person) The school will provide career interest and aptitude inventories for students. The school counselor will work with students and teacher-advisors to support the development of annual plans beginning in the eighth grade. The Academic Director will oversee these strategies.
Baseline Data	What is our beginning data point? Career plans from the 2004-2005 school year, which will be finalized in May 2005.
1st-Year Target	What do we expect to achieve by the end of our first year? (Set your Rating 3 [“Meets standard”] at a level that you would consider on target for your first year.) Rating 1 (Does not meet standard): Fewer than 70% of students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool). Rating 2 (Approaching standard) 70% to 84% of students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool). Rating 3 (Meets standard): 85% of students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool). Rating 4 (Exceeds standard): 86% or more students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool).
4th-Year Target	What do we expect to achieve by the end of our fourth year? (Set your Rating 3 [“Meets standard”] at a level that you would consider on target for your fourth year.) Rating 1 (Does not meet standard): Fewer than 80% of students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool). Rating 2 (Approaching standard): 80% to 94% of students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool). Rating 3 (Meets standard): 95% of students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool). Rating 4 (Exceeds standard): 96% or more students in the 8th grade and higher have individual career plans that are realistic, well-considered and well-developed for their grade levels (earning a rating of “Good” or “Excellent” according to our evaluation tool).
