

Javier Trujillo

Javier Trujillo serves as Achieve3000's Vice President of Government and Community Partnerships. An experienced government and public affairs executive, Javier is responsible for the development and management of Achieve3000's national government affairs strategy at the federal, state, and local government levels. He facilitates and maintains ongoing interaction between Achieve3000 and elected local, state, and federal officials, as well as school district leaders, and assists in the identification and the implementation of strategic school-community partnerships throughout the United States.

Javier joined Achieve3000 after thirteen years with the City of Henderson where he most recently served as Director of Government and Public Affairs. Javier also served as New Mexico Governor Bill Richardson's state political director during the 2007 presidential primary, and from 2002 to 2007, he worked with the Clark County School District as a project facilitator for the Curriculum and Professional Development division.

Javier is active in the Las Vegas valley having served as a board member for various nonprofit organizations, including: the Silver State Schools Credit Union Board of Directors; the UNLV School of Medicine Community Advisory Board; the Red Rock Canyon Interpretive Association/Southern Nevada Conservancy Board; the Las Vegas Healthy Communities Coalition Leadership Council, United Way of Southern Nevada; and CPLC Southwest. He was appointed to the Nevada Arts Council by former Nevada Governor Brian Sandoval in 2012.

Javier previously served three terms as Chairman of the Latin Chamber of Commerce of Nevada Board of Directors. He also served as a member of the Clark County School District Superintendent's Student Equity and Access Commission, the Superintendent's Educational Opportunities Advisory Board, and the College of Southern Nevada's Strategic Planning Committee and President's Advisory Board.

Javier has been the recipient of various recognitions, including being named the 2012 Hispanic of the Year by the Latin Chamber of Commerce of Nevada; the 2009 Staff Person of the Year by the Nevada League of Cities and Municipalities; and the 2004 Outstanding Hispanic Educator by the City of Las Vegas.
