Dear SPCSA Staff and Board Members,

Doral is an amazing school that has taught me many things over the years that I have been there. They have great teachers, staff, curriculum, events, electives, and a great school facility. Their curriculum is really good, and if someone does not understand something, the teachers can easily explain it clearly. The teachers are very kind, caring, helpful, and great at their job. If someone is really smart, and is very far ahead, there are multiple things they can do to be challenged. Also, their staff is great at making sure the students are acting in a positive manner. Their core values the people at doral often teach about, are the eight habits which can help people be successful in their life. This includes things such as being proactive, finding your voice, and putting first things first. This has greatly impacted me in my life and has made me a better person in the process. The events there are really great too, which includes things such as performances of many kinds, the middle school dance, and the color run. There are also many fun and educational electives people can take, such as biology, digital art marketing and design, guitar, and many more things. Also, the school facility is great, has many classrooms, good equipment, and it is not so big that people can not get to their classes before the passing period ends. Overall, I love doral because of it being an amazing school with great and kind people in it.

Sincerely,
Ethan Eccles.
